CLASS DESCRIPTION:

Drop that needle and open your eyes! We're going to take off on a visual journey that will stretch your mind to an exciting new dimension and add more color competence to your fabric creations.

In this no-sew class we'll explore color and how to use it in our art. We'll look around at color in nature, in the media, in our neighborhood, at work, and at home. We'll reference magazines, photos, posters, brochures, billboards and whatever else tempts our imaginations and tickles our senses. We'll cut, paste, paint, dip and dabble in search of our own magic carpet of color, where the colors of our deepest personal expression can be found. Along the way we will capture all that we've learned into a personalized COLOR MAGIC JOURNAL a record of the territory we've visited for each participant to take along on his or her next color discovery tour.

This workshop trains your eyes to see in a new way, and is guaranteed to enable you to see a more color-full world than you ever saw before.
